Purpose:
To provide a quiet, supportive environment for students currently writing a master's thesis or dissertation.

Schedule and facilities:
Participants are expected to commit to writing from 8:30 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. each day (Monday through Friday) and may choose to stay until the close of each day at 4:30 p.m. The “campers” will have access to a microwave, a refrigerator, and a common area for taking breaks. The work space is located in the Commonwealth House, part of the Gaines Center for the Humanities on Maxwell Street.

Items to Bring with you:
Bring whatever notes, books, etc. that you need, along with a reliable laptop. Also please bring a water bottle or travel mug for coffee, water, and soda fill-ups throughout the day so we do not have to waste disposable cups. Be sure to pack your binky, your lucky rabbit’s foot, the picture of your significant other – whatever keeps you calm and motivated to write. We’re all friends here😊

Cost:
The registration fee for attending the winter boot camp is $15 (payable on the first day). The Graduate School will supply breakfast items, snacks, and drinks.

Parking:
Most R lots are off control during the winter break, including the very limited R18 lot behind Memorial Coliseum, which is close to the Commonwealth House. All E lots remain on control. Participants should check the Parking and Transportation website for up-to-date information regarding winter break policies: http://www.uky.edu/pts/parking-info_break-parking_semester-break

Registration is closed; capacity has been reached.

Deadline to apply is December 1st. Enrollment will be limited to 15 participants. If you have questions, email Dr. Morris Grubbs at morris.grubbs@uky.edu.